ABOUT US

Since 1988 CMP has successfully produced award-winning content for a varied base of clients both locally and internationally.

Our approach is one of collaboration: the creative process is cultivated through active client involvement at every stage, from the initial concept creation to the project's final edit.

CMP is firmly committed to the empowerment, skills transfer, education and training of our previously disadvantaged employees. This is done through our mentorship programme, which takes the work place experience approach and gives CMP the ability to mould each individual's interaction with the company according to the individual's skills and desired goals and outcomes.
